We work with groups and individuals who want to help meet the needs of the people in Northland. We encourage the spirit of giving as a means of improving our communities for everyone's benefit.

September is Wills Month

Leaving a lasting legacy

Sorting out your will is a task that is all too easy to put off, but things could get messy for those you leave behind if you die without a valid, up-to-date will.

Having a will gives you peace of mind that you have made the best provision possible for the people and causes you care about, making it easier on your family and friends if the worst should happen.

Northland Community Foundation supports local charities and causes that could be important to you.

Add Northland Community Foundation into your will with Wills Westenra Lawyers, Henderson Reeves or Law North and receive 10% off the cost of creating or updating your will this September.

Northland COVID-19 Recovery Fund

As New Zealand has moved into a stable phase of the COVID-19 pandemic, Northland Community Foundation renamed the Northland COVID-19 Emergency Response Fund the Northland COVID-19 Recovery Fund. "Now that the health risk has diminished, we are turning our focus to recovering our community sector," said General Manager of Northland Community Foundation, Greta Buchanan.

The Northland COVID-19 Emergency Response Fund has been well received and raised a total of $90,000 since March, thanks to The Tindall Foundation, Foundation North and an anonymous individual donor who are our major donors of this fund.

It provided much needed support to people affected by the coronavirus. Funds were used to help provide care packs to Moerewa and its neighbouring communities as well as support food bank at Open Arms Whangarei. Multicultural Whangarei and Bream Bay Community Trust were also recipients of the fund to support their community groups that needed immediate help during the lockdown.

For patients of Northland District Health Board (NDHB) Hospitals who are affected by COVID-19, the Northland COVID-19 Emergency Response Patient Support Fund provides grants of up to $500 to help them financially. Priority is given to patients who are 55 years plus, living in rural or isolated areas, in a difficult financial situation, managing a long-term or acute condition(s), and affected by the COVID-19 pandemic. Patients may use the grant on expenses such as groceries, warm clothing, heating appliances, utilities, etc.

Many have been grateful for the funding provided and commented that they are amazed at how efficient the process has been.

"Northland Community Foundation has been a great resource for the community as another avenue of funding available to support those providing assistance to the community. It was great to be one of the panel members of the Northland COVID-19 Emergency Response Fund and know that recipients of the fund were able to use these funds to directly help the most vulnerable in our community," commented Northland Regional Council Civil Defence Emergency Management Officer (Welfare), Claire Nyberg.

"The Patient Support Fund is providing much needed support to patients across Northland. Since coming out of Level 4, our social workers are identifying patients who are experiencing intense financial stress. COVID-19 is having a ripple effect for many whānau in the community. We know that there are sub-standard living conditions throughout Northland especially in isolated communities, so this fund has been able to alleviate some of the pressure and hardship being experienced. The fund supports older people with getting basic living requirements such as warm clothing, heaters and food," said Dr Nick Chamberlain, Northland DHB Chief Executive.

Funds transferred to the COVID-19 Recovery Fund will now be focused on helping the community sector ensure the ability to continue support services that Northland need in the long run.

Many community groups in Northland have not been able to fundraise, have experienced an increased demand in services and needed to adapt to service delivery to operate safely. The COVID-19 Recovery Fund will help provide funding to these organisations so that they can continue to operate and serve their respective communities.

"We want to ensure our local community groups that they will be supported in their road to recovery from the COVID-19 crisis. Funding priority will be given to organisations that provide immediate or essential services that have a positive influence and long-term impact in our region," said Greta Buchanan

Gareth Foster – giving to where his heart resides

Brent Eastwood and Gareth Foster (right).

Gareth Foster has resided in Northland his entire life, and there are a number of local causes which are close to his heart. In writing his will, Gareth has naturally chosen to look after family and friends first and has decided to leave the residual of his estate to benefit these causes that mean the most to him, namely opera, sports and education.

Gareth is a male bass singer, and has performed for many years, including with the Whangarei Repertory Society and Whangarei Theatre Company. He has always loved sport, particularly athletics and swimming, and has had family that have represented New Zealand at the Olympics in equestrian, winning medals for our country. He has seen the opportunities that investment in youth can bring to young talent. He also has a love for education, which his mother instilled in him as a school teacher.

"Giving makes me feel good, it's great to give something back to the community I have lived in and loved for my whole life," says Gareth.

He says, "we need to support our top students as they are our future!"

Gareth's residual gift in his will is going to be invested with Northland Community Foundation, with the income benefitting these causes of his choice forever, providing scholarships to up-and-coming young talent in his name.

Three endowment funds have been set up according to his will; they are the Gareth Foster Northland Education Endowment Fund, the Gareth Foster Northland Sport Endowment Fund and the Gareth Foster Opera Endowment Fund.

"Giving makes me feel good, it's great to give something back to the community I have lived in and loved for my whole life," says Gareth.

Sport Northland Chief Executive Brent Eastwood is thrilled with the bequest. "Once realised, the new named fund will be significant for the sports of athletics, equestrian and swimming in Northland, enabling the high achieving males in those sports to benefit from the annual scholarships that will result from the fund. Through the current Kauri Club, which already funds scholarships and grants to talented young Northland athletes, Sport Northland already has the processes set up to cater for Gareth's wishes, so there is great alignment with what we do in the talent development space," he says.

Gareth's wonderful gift will definitely make a difference to the young people living in Northland. He is leaving a legacy for the future of Northland!

Delivering hope and aroha during the lockdown

Northland Community Foundation (NCF) established the Northland COVID-19 Emergency Response Fund to help Northlanders who were hit hard by the COVID-19 pandemic. This fund was set up for those most affected during the lockdown and thereafter.

NCF worked with Northland District Health Board, Ministry of Social Development, Civil Defence and other funders and partners to identify gaps in government funding and where our funding assistance can be best utilised.

In response to an immediate need within the Moerewa community in March 2020, NCF provided $5,000 in funding to support He Iwi Kotahi Tatou Trust (HIKTT) so that they can continue to provide care packs to residents living in and around Moerewa. These care packs consisted of essentials such as flour, bread, eggs, fruits, vegetables, kumaras and hygiene products. They were distributed to vulnerable families and the elderly in the community. Over 1000 packs were given out since 23 March and will continue weekly.

Moerewa is a small town in Northland about five kilometres to the West of Kawakawa. It has a population of approximately 1,500 and over 88 percent of its residents are Māori. The town has been battling with unemployment and poverty due to restructuring and the loss of rural services over the years. These pre-existing conditions compounded with COVID-19 made life even harder for the locals living in Moerewa.

Pamela-Anne Ngohe-Simon, Coordinator for HIKTT, said that they were “not only providing residents of Moerewa, Matawaia, Opahi and Orauta with essentials but most importantly, delivering hope and aroha!”

“It is totally necessary for our people to feel a sense of belonging and know that we are here to help. We want to show our community that we care and value each one of them. These packs are an expression of who we are, packaged up in love that our people are able to receive,” she explained.

Chairman of HIKTT, Ngahau Davis said, “this project has been a collaboration of collective goodwill from many people and organisations.” He is very grateful and wants to thank all the volunteers, partners and everyone who have made this project possible.

As the Māori proverb stated, “Nāku te rourou nāu te rourou ka ora ai te iwi”, with your basket and my basket, the people will thrive. Mr Davis reminded us that with cooperation and combination of resources, we can get ahead!

In collaboration with the community, HIKTT set up a COVID-19 Response Task Force which was fittingly named “Tu Te Mana Tangata – Our people stand together in strength”. There is also a Facebook group and database aligned with this kaupapa.

“We know that our local charities and community groups need extra support during this extremely difficult time, and we would like to help fund their services as quickly as possible,” said Greta Buchanan, General Manager of Northland Community Foundation.

The Northland COVID-19 Emergency Response Fund has been renamed as the Northland COVID-19 Recovery Fund as New Zealand moved into Alert Level One in June.

“There is a high need for support during this difficult and challenging time”

Helping the most vulnerable in our community

Northland Community Foundation (NCF) through its Northland COVID-19 Emergency Response Fund has been helping the most vulnerable in our community. NCF has granted funds to One Double Five Community House for their 155 Open Arms service so that they can continue to feed the homeless and many vulnerable families in Whangarei.

155 Open Arms – Te Ruruhau Onga Ringa Ringa Tuwhera is the day care centre in Whangarei that provides food, shelter and other services for people who are homeless or living rough. It is a place where people in crisis can connect with various health, housing and community services.

Due to the COVID-19 pandemic, there is an increasing need for food parcels for vulnerable families and daily meals among the homeless in Whangarei. “The requests for food parcels within our 155 Open Arms service have increased three-fold,” said CEO Liz Cassidy-Nelson.

“We would appreciate support for our food bank so that we are able to continue providing this valuable service.” Funds also went towards providing daily meals for the homeless to consume off-site (takeaways), and for those that One Double Five was unable to house but continue to be living rough. On average, around 36 people receive meals prepared at the 155 Open Arms Day Centre to take away daily during the lockdown.

“We envisage an ongoing demand on this service, particularly as the vulnerability within our community has increased due to loss of income and employment,” Liz commented.

Multicultural Whangarei also received a grant to help new migrants and international students who did not qualify for government support and were unemployed during the lockdown. It provided food vouchers and mobile top-up vouchers to these vulnerable groups so that they were not isolated and did not fall through the cracks.

“There is a high need for support during this difficult and challenging time,” said Jessie Manney, Manager of Multicultural Whangarei. “Many migrant cultures find it hard to ask for help, and when they do finally ask, they are in real desperate need. If we can provide them some help with the basics like food, it will make a huge difference to their lives.”

Migrants can be isolated even in good times and Multicultural Whangarei strives to help them feel included and a part of the Northland community through workshops, seminars and gatherings. “For those without telephones or internet connectivity, they are even more isolated and lonely. We would like to help them stay connected to both their local community and their overseas families,” Jessie Manney added.

The Northland COVID-19 Emergency Response Fund had made a huge difference in our community. Thank you for your support!

Diabetes Summer Camp

For four full days, 16 children living with type 1 diabetes from across Northland stayed together at the annual Diabetes Summer Camp at Whangarei Heads to learn about their condition, make friends and most of all, have fun!

Families are only asked for a koha of $20 to contribute towards the Camp. Northland DHB pays for the food and staffing, and the remainder of the costs are covered by funds raised at the annual Diabetes Fun Run & Walk.

The successful Camp not only gives the children the chance to meet and reunite with other youth with the same health issues in the beautiful surroundings at the Manaia Baptist Camp, it also gives their parents a well-deserved break.

To be eligible, attendees need to be at least seven years old, and priority is given to those that are newly diagnosed. This year, three newly diagnosed children came along and met other type 1 kids for the first time. Six out of the 16 at the Camp were using insulin pump therapy and a 16-year-old girl and 17-year-old boy with type 1 took part as youth mentors.

Every year a large contingent return to the camp, including ten-year-old Siena Southall and 11-year-old Aayden Mitchell who said they look forward to coming back to meet up with friends from previous years.

Aayden explained that she finds it reassuring that she's not the only one who has diabetes and gets to meet others who know what she is going through.

"I've learnt you're not always perfect. You can have high sugars and so can everyone else."

Northland DHB's dietician Mary McNab's cooking was one of the highlights for the girls. Along with the enormous slippery slide that Whangarei Heads Volunteer Fire Brigade put on for them and all the activities they got to take part in with Sport Northland, the Papermill and Muay Thai Movement, who all volunteered their support.

Camp coordinator and clinical nurse specialist Eve de Goey said Northland DHB provides three specialist diabetes nurses, a registrar, child health clinic nurse, paediatrician and the diabetes kaiāwhina who work together to look after the kids over the four days. Two diabetes experienced staff cover the nightshift and ensure the children all get tested throughout the evening, and two community volunteers also assist to help the Camp run smoothly.

Muay Thai Movement instructor Kylie Batistich said she too lives with type 1 diabetes and jumped at the chance to help out at the Camp.

"I've always wanted to do a diabetes class where there's no stigma around stopping to go and do a test. Being able to do it with all the kids, was next level. They are my people. We all got to show our pumps to each other. It was just awesome."

Kylie has had diabetes for the past 24 years and said in that time, there had been many advances in technology. She now uses a device called a Miaomio which sends continuous glucose readings direct to her watch. This device gives data to help her control her insulin levels which can drop or rise at any time, especially when she's exercising.

"It's great to see a lot of the kids have them because it's life-changing. We need to get it funded for everyone."

COVID-19 Patient Support Fund

Dean Reihana is 71 years old and lives alone in a council's pensioner unit in Kawakawa. He has been on dialysis treatment for five years now. He is one of the patients who was granted financial assistance from the COVID-19 Patient Support Fund.

Dean goes for dialysis treatment every other day at the hospital from 6:30am to 12:30pm. "After lying down flat for five and a half hours, I often get very dizzy and need a rest when I get home. It takes a while for the blood to get back into the system. The aches and pains really go through one's body and mind," Dean says.

He is "very happy and grateful" for the assistance he received for the power bill payment from the Patient Support Fund.

"It is a big help to me!" he says. "The concrete building that my one-bedroom unit is in is very cold and I need heating to keep the unit warm."

To save on heating hot water, Dean has to turn off the heating unit every other day. He would go without hot water sometimes because he is worried about the power bill. Hence, he is exceptionally grateful that his power bills are taken care of this winter.

The COVID-19 Patient Support Fund was set up in response to the COVID-19 pandemic. It provides $500 grants towards patients of Northland District Health Board (NDHB) Hospitals who require financial assistance due to the pandemic. Priority is given to patients who are 55 years plus, living in rural or isolated areas, in a difficult financial situation, and managing a long-term or acute condition(s).

About $9,800 has been granted to patients of NDHB through the COVID-19 Patient Support Fund so far. Your support of the COVID-19 Patient Support Fund is greatly appreciated.

Donation of Astodia Diaphanoscope

Thanks to a generous donation of funds to Health Fund PLUS by Dairy Goat Cooperative - NZ Ltd, staff at Whangarei Hospital's Special Care Baby Unit (SCBU) can easily access the veins of premature babies and newborns using a newly purchased Astodia Diaphanoscope.

Developed by a neonatologist, the Astodia uses the latest generation of high-powered LEDs to provide unobstructed views of even the smallest vessels in premature and small infants, reducing the number of needle sticks required.

Astodia utilises red and yellow wavelengths individually to accommodate different patient sizes and vein depths. The yellow light is for viewing smaller veins closer to the skin surface, while the red light illuminates deeper targets. The LEDs are adjustable with different gradients of brightness, for clear vein targeting at various tissue densities. It is lightweight, portable and can be held under the patient's extremities without having to take them out of their incubator. Automatic safety features ensure that the patient is never exposed to an uncomfortable temperature.

Dairy Goat Co-Operative Trust Chair, Nicola Locke, said they were delighted to donate the funds to Health Fund PLUS for Northland DHB to purchase the Astodia.

"The donation fits well with our Trust's purpose of improving the health, education and welfare of children and families throughout our shareholder regions of Northland, Waikato and Taranaki."

Dairy Goat Co-operative Trust was established in 2017 with the aim of strengthening communities through charitable donations which nourish and care for future generations. The Trust's primary source of funding is its farmer shareholders, supplemented by contributions from fundraising events involving Dairy Goat Cooperative staff, shareholders and goods/services providers. Funding is focused on organisations in shareholder regions, i.e. Northland, Taranaki and Waikato, which aim to improve the health, education and welfare of children. Trust fund recipients are identified by the Trustees and its contributors.

Health Fund PLUS was set up by Northland DHB and Northland Community Foundation to provide a way for people to give to the DHB by way of donations or endowments. Health Fund PLUS enables Northland DHB to purchase equipment and services over and above what can be purchased through Government funding, helping the organisation provide the best quality healthcare possible to the people of Northland.

Northland Grassroots Fund

Northland Community Foundation (NCF) via the Northland Grassroots Fund allocate grants each year to worthy causes and charities in Northland. Recipients of Grassroots Fund work in the community in one or more of these areas: early childhood, youth development, literacy and numeracy, budgeting, Maori, migrant, refugee and cross-cultural and housing. This year, NCF received applications from 40 organisations that amounted to a total request of $451,510.

With a limited amount of fund to distribute, members of the Grant Panel had a difficult time selecting the following 11 organisations to be the recipients of the available funds.

The Grassroots Fund Panel is made up of six local leaders from all around Northland. They meet once a year to review applications for funding to ensure that the money goes where it will have the greatest impact for our community.

Northland Grassroots Fund is kindly supported by The Tindall Foundation and boosted by donations from NCF's Northland Community Fund. Funds are granted to local initiatives that aim to improve the lives of Northlanders in the long-term under the 'families' category.

Grassroots Fund – ParentPort North

ParentPort North received $5000 in 2019 through Grassroots Fund to help families with pre-school children in need of support and assistance.

The organisation believes in the social and economic values of good parenting. They support families with pre-school children in times of stress or crisis with practical in-home help, including childminding. This enables caregivers a well-earned break or time to attend appointments that are not appropriate for young children to attend such as doctors or counselling. They tailor their services to suit each client depending on their needs.

“Many clients do not have family support and find the pressures of raising a young family very difficult and a helping hand in the home can make a world of difference, says Dianne Julian, Manager of ParentPort North Inc.

“Isolation is a huge problem for many of our clients as they live in rural areas; hence, a visit from our workers is often the highlight of their week. Many of them suffer from postnatal depression and struggle with each day. Reassurance that they are doing a great job and a little help with some of the daily chores gives them peace of mind.”

ParentPort North provide up to 12 hours free in-home support and work with clients to meet their needs. Between 1 August 2019 and 14 May 2020, ParentPort North assisted 29 families in the Kaipara region, providing 260.5 hours of support. Most of ParentPort's referrals came from the Midwife and Birthing Unit while the rest came through friends, word of mouth or social media like Facebook.

One mother wrote, “I just wanted to send a quick email to say thank you!! Your service at ParentPort has enabled me to attend counselling session and an emergency dental appointment, Julia has looked after and cared for my 7-month-old son, Ariki, twice now and I am so grateful. What an amazing organisation you are, if I didn't hear about you (through Bridget at the Warkworth Woman's Centre) I would be struggling to attend such important appointments. Having a moment to myself is very very rare these days, so that is also appreciated.”

Another client said, “Julia was a tremendous help! Thank you so much for supporting us through this difficult time.” (This client's baby died following medical accident during surgery.)

ParentPort North covers a large area, from the Kaipara boundary (Ross Road) to the Brynderwyn's in the north, coast to coast. To minimise travel costs, they have workers in a few main areas, namely Anne Marie Hoste who covers South Kaipara, Emma Holliday who covers Mangawhai, Julia Creed who covers Rodney and Julie Gilmore who covers the Maungaturoto/Paparoa area. Dianne Julian the manager oversees all the areas. All ParentPort North workers hold current first aid certificates and are police vetted. All their field workers are mothers themselves and understand the daily stresses of raising a young family. They also have a governing board with seven members who meet every eight weeks to oversee ParentPort North.

“ParentPort North is the only agency in this area that provides this service for free. Over 95 percent of our clients are referred to us by other organisations such as Midwives, Plunket, Doctors, Otamatea Family Services, Family First and many others. Clients can also self-refer”, commented Dianne Julian.

“We are open to anybody with a preschool child who needs support and assistance. Many of our clients are striving to support their family the best they can, often with not a lot to work with. Crisis can strike any family at any time. Often, short-term help is what they need to get them back on track.”

“Children are one of the most vulnerable sectors of our society. They don't have a voice for themselves and rely on their caregivers to provide this. Often parents and caregivers struggle with the day to day realities of raising a young family. We are here to help.”

Grassroots Fund – Whangarei Youth Space

Whangarei Youth Space (WYS) was thankful to receive a $5000 grant from Grassroots Fund in 2019 that enabled them to contract a counsellor to work onsite 20 hours per week. This service provided 40 consultations with some of the most vulnerable young people in our community and highlighted the need for this service going forward.

The initiative focused mainly on suicide prevention and support. It is aligned with the Prime Minister's Child Health and Wellbeing strategy and the findings of the Mental Health Review. It provided a necessary component to delivering a complete Youth Mental Health and Wellbeing Service that offers real impact to reducing youth suicide in our community.

Although this service is no longer in operation, WYS is actively exploring options to fund a similar service in the future based on the success of this initiative.

According to General Manager Ryan Donaldson, “this initiative was well received by young people as evidenced by a lower number of young people not attending their scheduled appointments in comparison to when they have been referred to external counsellors”.

Ryan also added that having a counsellor on site at WYS enabled young people to have easier access to counselling. Most of the rangatahi would have already built a rapport just from seeing and meeting Andy Cooper, the youth counsellor at WYS. The higher than normal attendance rates for consultations meant that WYS was able to support more youths from this initiative.

Whangarei Youth Space is a Youth Development organisation established in 2014 in response to young people's needs. It uses a co-design and partnership approach between adults and youths. WYS provides a social drop-in centre for after-school and school holiday activities, programmes and events, wellbeing and health (including clinical services), and support services for young people between 12 and 24 years of age. All services are free, and their focus is improving outcomes and life opportunities for young people and their whanau so that all young people are thriving and valued in Whangarei.

Friends of the Foundation & Future 50

The Future 50 Fund is looking for 50 individuals or local businesses that are committed to giving $20 per week to help fund our core operations.

This money will go towards promoting Northland Community Foundation to future donors and grant recipients, processing applications for grants, as well as everyday costs like wages, software, office equipment and consumables.

Your donation may be worth even more than you think. Individuals can claim a 33.33 percent tax credit for all donations over $5 they make. Donations made through Payroll Giving are also eligible for tax credits of 33.33 percent but have the added advantage that the credit is given automatically through your pay. Hence, for a $20 donation, only $13.40 is taken from your pay! Companies donating to the fund can claim tax deductions (a reduction in the amount of taxable income) for all donations made.

We are also looking for Friends of the Foundation. If you are an individual or you represent a corporation, and you would like to make a one-off donation to support the operational costs of the Foundation, we would love to hear from you. Friends of the Foundation will be invited to special events and kept informed with our biannual newsletter.

By becoming Friends of the Foundation, you belong to an exclusive group of people who help support and sustain our important work within the community. You can help to ensure that our fees stay low. Endowment funds are currently only charged at 1% per annum and pass through funds at 10%, and we'd love to keep it that way.
